The Community Chest War Fund of Washington officially dissolved yesterday after your years of exist-ence and turned its job over to a peacetime organization—the Community Chest Federation. The last report of the old group and the first annual statement of the new were submitted to the same meeting in the United States Chamber of Commerce building.

Edwin C. Graham, chairman of the War Fund, was ill and could not attend the meeting, but his community service was praised in his absence. Tribute also was paid to William J. Flather, jr., chairman of the Committee on Admissions and Budget; Corcoran Thom, treasurer and the successive campaign chair-men, Floyd Akers, Coleman Jennings and Lee D. Butler.

Success Encouraging.

Frank R. Jelleff said the suces of the War Fund was encouraging to those who thought Washington and the surrounding area, including Alexandria and Arlington and Fairfax County, in Virginia, and Mont-gomery and Prince Georges Counties. Maryland, could merge their Community Chest campaigns for peacetime operation.

The Board of Directors of the federation named yesterday includes 88 persons. Members were appointed by the respective Chests, the number depending on the population and number of agencies served by the Chest. Alexandria has 10 members, Washington 47. One more director remains to be named by the Washington Chest.

Dr. Marvin Outlines Expansion of G. W. U. To Cost 30 Million

eventually will cost $30,000,000 is planned for George Washington

Details of the plan were disclosed yesterday by Dr. Cloyd Heck Marvin, university president, after the general report meeting of the George Washington Hospital's Equipment Fund Campaign at the Mayflower

At the luncheon Maj. Gen. U. S. Grant III, campaign chairman, announced that $420,084 has been received or pledged. The campaign, which started early last month, has a goal of $925,000. The new hospital is now under construction at Washington Circle.

Hospital Is First Unit. In a talk to campaign workers, Dr. Marvin urged the hospital be viewed as the "first unit of a greater project we have in mind that will reach into $30,000,000."

Shortly after conclusion of the hospital drive, Dr. Marvin told newsmen, the school will open a campaign for a new law school. He said that in the future new dormi-tories and new buildings for the medical school and engineering school also would be needed.

Included in the expansion plan, the official declared, is purchase of land for a large campus.

He said that according to present plans the campus will be in an area that extends from Nineteenth and F streets N.W. north to Pennsylvania avenue, west to Washington Circle, south on New Hampshire avenue to H street, west to the Potomac River parkway, along the parkway to F street, and then east on F street to Nineteenth.

He said the area between F and
